

Climate Change Poem
by Natalie Mallal

The temperatures are warming
As the ice caps melt
Our climate is transforming
And it isn't going unfelt

Humans are dying
Animals are too
Some people are trying
But others have no clue

Why aren't people helping?
Who will help save the earth?
This change is overwhelming
We need a worldwide rebirth

So don't waste what you're buying
And use the voice God gave you
You can help prevent people from dying
Together, we can pull through
